GAS DROPS 2 CENTS TODAY

KEROSENE IS REDUCED 1 CENT AT THE SAME TIME

OVER MIDDLE WEST

Four Out of Six Down Town Service Stations Receive Notice and Another Expects a Reduction

Motorists will now travel cheaper—at least for a while. Gasoline dropped at noon here today 2 cents at four of the local down town service stations and one of the other filling stations was expecting to get notice of a reduction before the day is over. The reason given for the cut in the price of gas is on account of the drop of the price at tank cars at the refineries.

Gasoline has been selling for 23.2 cents a gallon, but with the reduction that went into effect at noon at the Marland, Independent Standard and B Square service filling stations the price was lowered to 21.2 cents a gallon and 19.2 cents a gallon at the tanks. This includes the 2 cents state tax.

The operators of the Sinclair filling station reported this afternoon that notice was received at 1 o'clock for a 2 cent a gallon reduction in gasoline and a 1 cent cut in price of kerosene.

With the drop in gasoline there also was a 1c cut in the price of kerosene. Kerosene was reduced from 16.6 to 15.6 cents a gallon at the filling stations.

Kansas City, August 25.—The Tidewater oil sales corporation yesterday announced a cut of 2 cents a gallon on gasoline in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut.

In view of the fact the cut effective in Kansas City today was preceded by a cut in the East about a week ago, this latest cut in New York may portend another slash here.

The much expected tumble in gasoline prices started late yesterday.

The Standard Oil Company of Indiana announced a 2-cent a gallon cut on tank wagons and at filling stations in this territory, effective today.

The new rate is 16.9 cents a gallon on tank wagons and 18.9 cents at service stations.

At service stations in Kansas City, Mo., the city tax of 1 cent a gallon and state tax of 2 cents a gallon are added to the price. In Kansas City, Kan., there is a state tax of 2 cents, but no city tax.

Chicago, August 25.—The Standard Oil Company of Indiana, in announcing a cut of 2 cents a gallon on gasoline and all naptha products, and a cut of 1 cent on kerosene, effective today, gave "competitive conditions" as the reason for the price slash.

The cut will be effective in the Standard's territory in Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, South Dakota and North Dakota.

Attend Funeral Mrs. Awalt at St. Joseph

Dies Suddenly Sunday There—Was Wife of Late Ezekiel Awalt Who Formerly Employed in Eversole Store.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Godsey and Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Linville went to St. Joseph today to attend the funeral of Mrs. Sarah Rebecca Awalt, a former resident of Maryville. Mrs. Awalt died suddenly afternoon while on the way to a cemetery to visit the grave of a granddaughter. She was accompanying her son, W. O. Awalt of St. Joseph, with whom she made her home.

An ambulance was summoned when the 80-year-old woman was stricken, but she was dead when it arrived. Dr. J. W. Mays, coroner, said death was due to apoplexy.

Mrs. Awalt was born in Ohio and had been a resident of St. Joseph fifteen years. She was the widow of Ezekiel Awalt, who was formerly employed in the dry goods store of D. R. Eversole. Besides the son, she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. S. E. Donoghue of Fort Smith, Ark., and Mrs. F. R. Adcock of Willow Springs, Mo.

Necessary Blanks Received at Red Cross Office—Forty-five Nodaway County Boys Lost Lives

The National government will furnish headstones free for markers on the graves of all of the boys killed in service during the World War, according to information received by Miss Betty Turner, local Red Cross secretary.

The markers are of uniform size and of white granite. All of the necessary data will be inscribed upon the stone before it is sent to the family for placement on the grave. The stones are furnished free and transportation paid by the government.

Forty-five sons of Nodaway County lost their lives in the World War. According to the records at the Red Cross office, all but three of the bodies have been returned to Nodaway County. The three remaining are buried in the National Cemetery in France.

There have not been any headstones secured for the forty-two graves in this county, according to Miss Turner. The Red Cross office has received the blanks that are required to be filled out and sent in to the War Department. The families of the boys who are entitled to receive the regulation headstones that are furnished by the government are requested to apply for the blanks at the Red Cross office.

Several months are required before the stones are received, Miss Turner states.

PAY TRIBUTE TO HELLMERS

140 ATTEND BANQUET IN THEIR HONOR LAST NIGHT.

EMPLOYES GIVE WATCH

Maryville Will Feel Loss of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hellmers, Is General Opinion Expressed.

Just a family gathering with a little humor mingled in with the serious thoughts and regrets, characterizes the Chamber of Commerce dinner given last evening in the basement of the First M. E. Church in honor of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hellmers, which was attended by about 140 persons, including about forty employes of the Maryville Electric Light & Power Co., and their wives.

Tribute was paid to Mr. and Mrs. Hellmers for their untiring and faithful work they have accomplished here for nearly two decades, both in the business, civic and social worlds. Mr. and Mrs. Hellmers will leave Thursday for their new home at Lincoln, Neb., where Mr. Hellmers has been promoted to division sales manager of the securities department of the United Light & Power Co.

Dr. Jesse Miller, Sr., president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided. He spoke briefly on Maryville's loss when the Hellmers leave and then called upon D. A. Caldwell, new secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, for a few remarks. Mr. Caldwell said this was the first opportunity he had had to meet so many of the members of the Chamber of Commerce, and told of the first favorable impression he received of the city, which he still retains and requested any and all of the members to feel at liberty to call upon him. Mr. Caldwell was followed by George L. Wilfley, who spoke for the Chamber of Commerce.

In speaking of Mr. Hellmers, who is a past president of the Chamber of Commerce and who is now serving his second term as a member of the board of directors, and Mrs. Hellmers, he said he had tried to catalog all the good things they have done here and had a hard time to get them all listed. Mr. Wilfley referred to the time when Mr. Hellmers took charge of the local light and power company and spoke of the remarkable success he has brought to it. He said "that in a civic way Mr. Hellmers has taken part in many activities and whenever there was a knotty problem to solve it was put over to Charley."

"Seriously, we are sincerely sorry to have you leave Maryville. We will miss you where your smilling countenance has helped to pull the load, and also socially, Mrs. Hellmers will be missed in the club work. We hope that you will not lose all your interests in Maryville. We hope that you go not only with the desire to amass a fortune and attain a name, but for the service of fellowmen and wish you Godspeed in your new work." Mr. Wilfley concluded.

R. P. Hosmer, as a member of the school board, spoke of the difficult problem it will be to fill Mr. Hellmers' place on the school board. He said one of Mr. Hellmers' points had been overlooked, that of showing the human side of a corporation, and it takes a big man to do that. "Our loss from the board of education is from this side. We need the human touch of "you and me" in the public schools and had Mr. Hellmers remained here, Maryville would not be talking of 'your school' but about 'our public school'" said Mr. Hosmer. Mr. Hosmer asked all the help in making this the best school in the state and to eliminate that "supposedly stone wall by which the school board is surrounded because it doesn't exist."

In introducing George A. Lee of Lincoln, general counsel of the United Light and Railways Co., of Lincoln, Neb., the owner of the Maryville plant, Doctor Miller spoke of the prominent part Mr. and Mrs. Hellmers had taken in the Parent-Teachers' Association here. Mr. Lee explained briefly the electric light industry here and then of the industry in general, telling of the remarkable strides the industry had taken in the last twenty-five years, and of the future of electricity.

"The time may come when electric current will be generated at the coal mines and distributed throughout the Nation," he said. "America's two contributions to the world have been con-

Kansas City Charter Is Upheld by Court

Jefferson City, Aug. 25.—The Missouri Supreme Court, en banc, in a sweeping decision, upheld the constitutionality of the new Kansas City charter in its entirety. The opinion was written by Judge Frank Atwood, and it denied the pro warranto motions to oust Albert Beach and the members of the city council.

The decision was rendered in a friendly suit which was brought by attorney-general, Robert Otto, and over-ruled specifically twenty objections as to the document being invalid.

The judges held that the charter became effective February 24, 1925. With this declaration sweeping aside enough opposition that charter was unconstitutional because some sections became effective February 24, 1925, and other sections were to become effective April 10, 1926.

THIS SECTION OFFERS MUCH

ADVANTAGES OF N. W. MISSOURI ARE MANY.

SHALLENBERGER HERE

Congressman Shallenberger of Alma, Neb., Will Speak to Bankers of County Tonight.

Declaring that a big increase in population for the towns of the agricultural districts is not near as important as it is to get the people of the best character, Congressman, A. C. Shallenberger of Alma, Neb., former governor of that state, said here this noon that Northwest Missouri offers the best advantages to attract progressive population as any section of the country.

"Governor" Shallenberger, as he is called by his friends, and he has many here and in Nebraska, told a representative of the Democrat-Forum and Tribune in his winning way, that he really did not expect that he would be called on for an interview. He said he came to Maryville at the request of C. D. Bellows, at whose home he is a guest today, to speak tonight before a gathering of Nodaway bankers on the subject of community advancement and community advertising. Mr. Bellows said that Governor Shallenberger is often called on in Nebraska to speak before the citizens of a community when a big project is to be "put over."

The former governor and present Democratic congressman from the fifth Nebraska district said, "I think that we can safely look and hope for in a country, which is as fine as surrounds Maryville, is always a chance for further development, and we cannot expect to build up a great manufacturing enterprise," explaining that it is not the nature of this section to build up manufacturing industries, but that each community has a chance to make the best of its advantages in the betterment of its population.

When asked his opinion on what action the next Congress would take on the Belgium debt agreement that was recently reached, Congressman Shallenberger expressed himself as "if the President urges the ratification of the pact Congress would probably act in conformance."

Congressman Shallenberger will speak at the dinner tonight at the Maryville Country Club, which starts at 6:30 o'clock, to the Nodaway County Bankers' Association, at which time plans for launching a campaign to advertise the advantages of this county will be the subject of the speakers and discussed by the bankers. He said, shortly after the lunch hour, that he was expecting Mr. Bellows to take him out to the Parkdale stock farm, where Mr. Bellows has his herd of shorthorns.

Culver Will Speak at Herron Picnic

Paul Culver of Plattsburg has been secured as the principal speaker at the Herron Co-operative Club picnic tomorrow in the grove on the Ernest Wray farm northeast of Maryville. His subject will be "Community Work and Co-operative Marketing."

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hepburn of Hopkins, Dr. Henry Hepburn of Chicago, and Mrs. George Layton and son, Harry, of Hopkins visited today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Fred Davis and family.

WANT U. S. IN DEBT PARLEY?

ANGLO-FRENCH CONFERENCE CONSIDERING THIS MOVE.

RECEIVED COLDLY HERE

Policy of United States Is to Deal With Each Nation Separately and Individually.

London, Aug. 25.—The question of whether the United States can be brought into the Anglo-French war debt conference to an end that a tri-party agreement might be made for liquidation of allied debts, has entered into the discussion today between Joseph Cailloux, French minister of finance, and Winston Churchill, British chancellor of the exchequer. The question of how the United States may be brought into the parley has been approached so cautiously that probably soon after this is in type there will be the usual denials.

Nevertheless, it is understood that Minister Cailloux and Chancellor Churchill entered into a lengthy discussion of the feasibility of asking the United States to come into the parley.

Although no decision has been reached it is said that the French minister and the English chancellor of the exchequer are of one mind that American participation was expected before a settlement of the debt can be made.

Washington, August 25.—Renewal of suggestions abroad in connection with the Anglo-French debt negotiations that United States go into an international conference for the adjustment of the inter-allied debt settlement was received here coldly in official circles.

The policy of the government with dealing in foreign debt settlement is to be considered as dealing with each country individually and separately and the government is alway opposed to a proposal for submitting the debt problem to a general conference. The policy was the base of the belief that nothing can be gained by any other method, as a great deal can be lost in view of the fact that the United States is the biggest creditor and has the most to lose under any system of funding the foreign obligations.

Swampscott, Mass., Aug. 25.—That the Belgium government received special consideration from the United States in the recent debt settlement because of the sufferings the little Nation was subjected during the war and the subsequent post-war depression existing and the sympathy of this government for Belgium, is the opinion of the President, it was officially stated today.

No Lights, Car Into Ditch Near Parnell

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Porter and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Weatherman Were Injured.

John Porter of Maryville received word this morning that his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Porter, and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Weathermon, were in an auto accident near Parnell about 8 o'clock last night. Mr. Wathermon who was driving his car without lights ran into a ditch and the car was overturned, pinning Mrs. Porter under it. Mrs. Porter received internal injuries while Mrs. Weathermon received a broken rib. Mr. Porter went to Parnell this morning to see his parents.

President Minimizes Dangers Coal Strike

Swampscott, Mass., August 25.—President Coolidge is inclined to minimize the dangers of a possible strike in the hard coal fields, reported to become effective September 1, it was stated today at the Summer White House. Mr. Coolidge looks on the fuel outlook as most reassuring. Reports reaching him indicate that the public will not suffer from lack of fuel if there is suspension of the anthracite mines.

Might as Well.

60 HOMELESS IN MONTREAL

FIRE SWEEPS THROUGH CANADIAN CITY LAST NIGHT

SWEPT BY HIGH WIND

Check-Up Made to Ascertain Loss of Life—Damage is Estimated to Reach Half Million

Montreal, Quebec, Aug. 25—Sixty are homeless and a block of houses were in ruins when firemen battled the horrors that they have had to battle for many years, was placed under control. For more than three hours fire swept forward, threatening to sweep the city.

Twenty ice houses, an ice house and stable were in ruins this morning. Many people are reported missing and a check-up is in progress to ascertain that there are no loss of lives.

A high wind drove the burning embers over a wide area, starting many small fires. The fire started in a garage on Ontario street, and fanned by a high wind, flames swept down the street. Firemen rushed from all sections of the city to fight the conflagration.

The water pressure was not at a high mark, and coupled with the high wind, the firemen were seriously hampered in their work. Meanwhile embers, carried on by a high wind were falling in the crowded east end of the city. Officials of the fire department estimate damage to be at least a half a million.

During the World War Basil Tchelavsky (above) was a major general in command of a division of the czar's army. His division was one of the few that won victories over the Germans. William Schilling (below) was a German ace during the war, having brought down three enemy planes, none of which was American. Both came to America and joined the Illinois National Guard, but the general and the ace now are far below their former military rank for each is just a private.

CHINESE TONG WAR SPREADS

FIVE KILLED AND SEVERAL WOUNDED TODAY.

ONE SHOT AT ST. LOUIS

Fued Arises Over Agreement Made Between Two Tongs Recently. Fear Nation-Wide Spread.

New York City, August 25.—At least five are dead and a half dozen wounded, is the toll up to 11 o'clock this morning in a renewal of bitter tong war feuds that were sweeping China towns in half a dozen cities of the Nation today.

Three Chinese were killed in New York; one in Chicago; another in Pittsburgh; a number wounded in Boston who may have been killed; and one shot in St. Louis. Fear is expressed that the warfare will spread to other cities of the country and casualties would result.

The trouble is believed due to the dissatisfaction on the part of the minority over a clause in a treaty recently promulgated that brought a truce between the Hip Sing and the Leong tongs under the treaty agreements. The Hip Sing tongs are forbidden to organize in certain cities and the Leongs are barred in other cities.

Bitter resentment is reported from the settlement.

St. Louis, August 25.—That the Leong Sing tong war may assume the aspects of Nation-wide proportions became apparent here today with the shooting down in the streets of Leong Choey, laundry owner.

He was wounded in the back by five assailants, who escaped in the maze of the crowd and is reported seriously wounded. Choey refused to offer any other motive for the cause of the attack other than the fact he was aware that for several days a price of "$5,000 had been offered for his head."

Earnings of Chicago News for Benevolence

Chicago, Aug. 25—Three-quarter of the earnings of the Chicago Daily News will be devoted to benevolent purposer, Victor Lawson, late publisher of the newspaper, certified in his will that was made public today. The newspaper will be managed by the present organization but the Illinois Merchant's Trust Co. is made executor and trustee of the estate.

The will mentions different bequeaths, amounting to $4,775,000, of which more than one-half is for benevolent purposes.

KKK Will Change Its Tactics Under Leader

Buckeye Lake, Ohio, Aug. 25.—More than 200 potentates of the Klu Klux Klan opened the national conclave today, which marks an epoch in the history of the invisible empire, according to its leader. At this meeting, which will come to a conclusion next Sunday, the K K K will be dedicated to a new purpose, the saving of America from socialism and restoration of the Protestant churches to Christ, according to Clyde Osborne, grand dragon of the realm of Ohio.

The K K K has abandoned the first phase of its activities because of attacks on the un-American influence which has caused it to condemned as an anti-Catholic, anti-Jewish organization, according to Osborne.

Crowds Gather for Army Officer's Trial

Maryville, Tenn., August 25.—The state closed the presentation of evidence this afternoon in the trial of William D. Sheffey, former army officer on a charge of slaying Luther Wells. The defense opened the case with seventy-five witnesses subpoenaed to take the stand. Great crowds jammed the courthouse to hear the testimony.

THE ONLY DAILY PAPER IN NODAWAY COUNTY

OUR AMERICAN JINGLE

Some critic scornful of this nation's output of poetry asserts that America has no poetry. He may have in mind the sort of stuff intended for highbrows; but unless he limits himself to this brand, his assertion is without foundation.

With us American poetry is very much alive. Perhaps we don't read the great masters, the ancient bards sublime, so much as we ought to; and perhaps even the latter songsters sing not for our ears. That may be true. But the point is that we do read what we like. We read a lot of it. And more than this, we write a lot of it.

Pegasus is with us not the thoroughbred and very rare steed that he was in days ago. Most any of us can ride him today. It is occasionally pretty rough going, to be sure; our fights of fancy are not very high, nor our searchings into the human soul very deep. But we deliver the goods in metrical form; and it pleases the readers. Which is what poetry should do.

At home of an evening father can't find his evening paper; this little incident inspires our poet to a lyrical offusion of homely charm and innocence. Everybody who has ever seen father look for his paper is moved to appreciation of this elegine quatrain. Skyscrapers and traffic officers; umbrellas and motorcycles; school girls and schoolmarms; old sweethearts and new ones—nothing is too remote or too simple to inspire our poet.

He is interested in nothing in which everybody isn't interested. And he makes everything interesting to everybody. All readers, from the oldest to the youngest, understand and appreciate it fully. There are no hidden meanings, no literary allusions. It is poetry for everybody.

The critic who says we have no poetry in America doesn't know American poetry.

DRESS AND SUCCESS.

The dictum rendered by an association of retail clothiers that, if you dress well, you'll be successful, may be prompted more by self interest than the desire to state a fact. "Apparel oft proclaims the man," was the judgment of Polonius and there is much of truth in that.

Dressing well may be highly desirable, indispensable under some circumstances, but that it is a guarantee of success leaves much to doubt. Unquestionably the stranger is judged superficially by his clothing and character may be indicated by the taste exhibited. Those in certain professions and callings are inclined to adopt an attire that proclaims their pursuits, though this is in evidence less, possibly, than was the case once. There is now a tendency to sameness and the one who affects to be different from the mass is the exception.

Propriety should be the dictator of the dress. One is dressed well whose clothing conforms to his employment. The farmer in overalls is as well dressed when at work as is the lawyer in court, though the latter's attire costs much and the former's little. Back of the clothing is the man and if he have not the elements of success within him no amount of apparel which he may pile on his back will for long sustain him in a job for which he is not fitted. What is appropriate dress for one occasion or business would be the opposite for another. Circumstances should govern the matter.

The trouble with a good many propositions is that, after all has been said, there is no time left to do anything.

A French doctor says that a woman has more control of herself than a man. She has also more control of a man.

The young man who likes to see his girl's eyes sparkle will be surprised at the results if he will buy her a two carat diamond.

Science has discovered that soda water is fatal to germs, but it must not be imagined that all who buy it are expecting to kill germs.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By Charles P. Stewart
NEA Service Writer.

Washington—Washington is in a fair way to fulfill the recent prediction of Prof. McKenzie, the University of Chicago sociologist, that the time is coming when only unmarried men and women will live in the centers of cities, while the married ones will dwell in the suburbs, only coming in for an occasional look at the white lights.

The national capital, because of its relatively large more or less temporary population, tends strongly toward apartment house existence. Now, the typical Washington suite of apartments consists of two rooms, kitchenette and bath. Larger ones are scarce because they're in small demand—few people can stand such murderous rentals—so there's little inducement to build them. Not much of a family can be squeezed into two rooms comfortably.

So what's a poor paterfamilias to do—with himself, his wife and even one offspring past the age where it can bunk in with pa and ma—to find shelter for his brood? Why, if they're to live like human beings, his only recourse is to move into the suburbs—Chevy Chase, Tacoma Park, Clarendon or some such place—and rent a cottage.

This doesn't quite limit central Washington's population to the unmarried, but it comes pretty near to limiting it to the childless. Realization of Prof. McKenzie's forecast in its entirety may come next.

SENATOR WILLIAMS ON THE PROPERTY TAX.

(St. Joseph News-Press)

Senator Williams is opposed to the general property tax for state purposes thinks the counties alone should have the right to tax property, and that the state should derive its revenue from other sources.

The senator has broached an interesting subject, and one which no doubt will attract attention, but his ideas as to the "other sources" might be even more interesting. There can be no doubt that the personal property tax is open to criticism. Devised before the development of the corporation and the enormous expansion of modern forms of investment in stocks and bonds, it is an anachronism and unworkable. It is neither just nor productive. If it were to be strictly applied it would confiscate property and wipe out incomes. It is not strictly applied because officials will not commit the folly and cruelty of applying it.

So far as we know, there is no student of scientific taxation, no authority on that subject, who has anything good to say of this stupid survival. Millions in personal property taxable under the law are not listed in this and other states every year. These evasions rarely are discovered, and little attempt is made to discover them. Experience everywhere has proved the personal property tax to be so unjust in its working that it is a failure.

But the state must have revenue, and if we are to abolish the personal property tax something must be devised to take its place. Many plans heretofore proposed have not worked out in practice. If Senator Williams has in mind a better one Missouri no doubt will give him a respectful hearing.

READ YOUR BIBLE.

(Collier's)

Why not read the Bible instead of quarreling over it?

It is a curious fact that this book around which the religion of Christendom is built has been more often fought over than read.

The scriptures compose the most important volume in human history. Without knowing them it is impossible to understand the world we live in. Regardless of denomination and faction and sect, the Bible is the source of most that is important in our civilization.

It inspires the passionate pursuit of truth, whose fruit is science. It supplies the criterion of morality for all and the tenets of belief for the faithful.

The ancient records of the history and of the traditions of the Jews are the very citadel of the spirit of modern men regardless of whether or not we profess any formal religion.

Even the agnostic socialist who regards religion as the sedative of the masses unconsciously derives from the Bible his own creed of human progress.

The revolutionary cry of the last century and a third—liberty, equality, brotherhood—is a gift of the Bible. Where else is to be found sanction for recognition of the sacred rights of every man and of the reality of human brotherhood?

Every ethical principle which today is revered—if not observed—comes from this same spring. The Bible, moreover, rightly approached affords fascinating reading for all kinds of minds. It is a complete literature and as varied as the life of a race which has endured thousands of years.

We may differ as how we interpret such details as Jonah and the whale or Joshua and the sun but no one who is capable of getting pleasure or comfort from reading can fail to profit by an acquaintance with the Bible.

From the standpoint of the learned nothing offers more splendid adventures. Just now a scientific expedition is being sent to explore Armageddon, the battleground of the Lord.

Through such inquiries, essentially biblical studies, is being retrieved the picture of how men lived thousands of years ago. The Bible serves the scholar not less than the average man.

So forget the silly legislators and congressmen who want to punish those suspected of teaching disrespect to the Bible and read the book itself.

It has lived a long time and it will survive even the folly of its defenders.

'DO YOU BELIEVE IN MURDER?'

(Richard Washburn Childe in the Saturday Evening Post.)

This is a police byword in various parts of the country today: "Oh, sisters, stop sobbing for the criminal; sob for his victim."

If there is anything which tends to break down the moral of all our law enforcement agencies, it is to find that punishment is interfered with by a lot of professors, social workers, amateur philosophers, ladies' sympathy circles and rescue leagues.

"Love," said one of these bearded gentlemen, who unconsciously are friends of crime—"love and not fear will dominate the world."

"It may be so," I replied, "But for an immediate deterrent of crime there is nothing like the fear of punishment. And unfortunately we must act not in 3925 A. D., but today. Given a fixed amount of criminal tendency in any country or community, inexorable swift punishment and nothing else will determine the amount of law breaking and will establish the authority of the state. And it is not your love of the criminal which interests us; it is whether he has love enough for you and me not to leave us in a pool of our precious loving blood."

this concern for the criminal rather than concern for the society he has defied, the clamor for saving him rather than for the preservation of law enforcement, the emphasis upon the tragedy of the criminal's fate rather than upon the fate of the victim and the authority of law has become an example of grotesque soft thinking.

When only one out of a hundred killers is paying the death penalty, the discussion as to whether capital punishment is brutal hardly appears of particular interest. James E. Baum, manager of the American Bankers' Protective committee, considers that anyone who is asked if he believes in capital punishment may well answer, "Maybe I do; when does it begin?"

The wailing about young men who are serving time and the tears for those who pay the death penalty are not a useful contribution to crime prevention. It is less pertinent to ask "Do you believe in capital punishment?" than to ask "Do you believe in murder?"

It is useful to ask whether we believe criminals who get into our penal institutions should have steam yachts. Herbert S. Hadley, formerly prosecutor and governor of Missouri and the plain speaking member of the American Bar association's committee to report on deflects in the administration of justice, says:

"It is my judgment that of those committing major crimes, such as homicide, burglary, robbery, assault, and the like, not one out of every five is adequately punished."

The statistics obtained bear out this statement. When city records show that half the violent offenders escape arrest and half those arrested escape conviction, and that two-thirds of those convicted are sentenced to inadequate punishment and that half of those who are sentenced are coddled by the sentimentalists, it is sensible to jump away from the criminal coddling business and give our energies not to excuse and forgiveness, but to punishment.

State Fair Exhibit Told Much in Small Scale.

How to make more money from beef cattle, horses, hogs and sheep was the message tersely told by the exhibit of the animal husbandry department of the Missouri College of Agriculture at the Missouri State Fair.

Efficiency in the production of beef is gained, according to this exhibit, by the use of cows that produce regularly, the use of good purebred beef bulls, utilization of roughage and pastures, liberal and continuous feeding of the calves till marketed, and the conservation of all manure.

Similar suggestions, in all cases supported by the record of careful experiments, were offered for increasing the profits from draft horses, hogs and sheep.

Freedom From Stomach Distress

Koch Pharmacy Has the Remedy and Guarantees It to End Indigestion or Gastritis. So Why Be Miserable?

You can get one bottle of Dare's Mentha-Pepsin and if after you take it you do not say it did your stomach more good than anything you ever used before, your money will be waiting for you.

This delightful and effective elixir not only gives instant relief from gas, fullness, heartburn and distress after eating, but taken regularly for a short time will turn your weak, run down stomach into a strong, healthy one able to perform its duties without help.

It ends indigestion, gastritis, catarrh of the stomach and does it in a surprisingly short period of time.

Dr. Wm. W. Morgan, a prominent dentist of Bridgeton, N. J., writes: "After suffering severely with gastritis and other stomach troubles, a friend gave me a bottle of Dare's Mentha-Pepsin. I had obtained little relief from other remedies, but four bottles entirely ended the trouble." Get it at Koch Pharmacy and all regular druggists everywhere.

Hobbies of the Great and Near Great in American National Life

Congressman B. H. Snell.

Hunting wild game on the snow-covered slopes of the Adirondacks is the principal hobby of Representative Bertrand H. Snell (R., of N. Y.), chairman of the House Rules Committee and one of the "big four" administration leaders in the lower branch of Congress.

The New York Congressman loves to take his rifle, a pack on his back and a pair of snow shoes and trail down his game on long trips through the snowy fastnesses. Frequently he will spend several days on the trail, following deer or elk for many miles across the wooded hills before bringing down his quarry.

On bear hunts the Congressman has had several exciting adventures, when the trapped animals turned on their hunter. But in all events, Snell demonstrated great skill with his rifle and brought home coveted trophies of the chase.

Bought Game Preserve.

His love for the sport some years ago prompted Snell to purchase a game preserve in the Adirondacks, near his home at Potsdam, N. Y. He visits the preserve each Fall for at least one week's hunting. Invariably a small party of friends accompany him, and an invitation to a Snell deer hunt is much sought after in Congressional circles. His trophies of these hunts adorn the walls of his Potsdam home and also the walls of his Capitol office.

All phases of outdoor life attract the Congressman. He loves skating and sleighing, his home being not many miles distant from Lake Placid, famed for its Winter sports.

Since becoming chairman of the House Rules Committee, with its control over legislation in the lower branch, Snell has devoted most of his spare time to a parliamentary law. Under the House rules, his committee can permit action on any bill, while shutting out any other from a final vote.

Toured Europe.

Elevated to the chairmanship two years ago, Snell used his first vacation—which came this summer—to make a tour of Europe to study foreign parliaments at first hand. He visited Great Britain, France, Belgium, Germany and Italy, visiting the capitals and watching the national parliaments at work. He also made a personal study of the parliamentary methods used.

In all probability, Snell will use the fruit of his observations as the basis for proposed changes for the improvement of the system now used by the House of Representatives. His proposal, if backed by the committee, virtually would assure any modification he desired.

Oh, yes! there's one more thing about Snell. It is said he's the only man in Congress who knows how to put the holes in a cake of cheese. He obtained the formula by being president of a New York cheese company.

HELPED THROUGH CHANGE OF LIFE

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during This Critical Time—Benefited Greatly

Baltimore, Maryland.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to help me through the Change of Life and for a broken-down system. I had been complaining a long time and dragging along had tried other medicines which did not help me much. I read in the newspapers of the Vegetable Compound and after taking a bottle I felt better. I did not stop with one bottle, but took it through the whole critical time and am now practically a well woman. I have two daughters whose health was very bad before they married and I was worried about them. I got the Vegetable Compound for them and it helped them, and after they married it also helped them in bearing their babies. This is a great and good medicine for all complaints of women, and I recommend it to all."—Mrs. L. GINGRICH, 1375 N. Gilmor St., Baltimore, Maryland.

The Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for women of middle age. Let it relieve you of nervousness, that feeling of strain and those annoying hot flashes so common at this time.

Mash and Still Found on the Rhoades Farm

County Officers Make Raid This Afternoon and Make Two Arrests for Possessing Still.

Pete Rhoades and Ovid Rhoades, both of Guilford, are under arrest this afternoon following a visit by Sheriff Lowell B. Campbell and Deputies Harve England and John Rasco to the Rhoades' farm two and one-half miles east of Barnard this morning.

Two stills of the variety used in the manufacture of intoxicating liquor were found on the Rhoades farm. One is practically new and the other is an old one. One was found in the loft of the barn, hidden under some hay that had been put up this summer. The other still was found in a weed patch near the farm house. Some barrels of mash were also found in a field on the farm.

The tenant, who is living on the farm, disclaimed all knowledge of the existence of the apparatus on the premises.

The sheriff and his party returned about 3:15 this afternoon from Barnard with the evidence and Ovid Rhoades in custody. Following the discovery of the evidence, the sheriff and his party went to Guilford where the arrests were made. The Rhoades are operating a dray line in that town. No charges or bond had been arranged for at press time.

stitutional government and the era of electricity. The exodus from the farms must terminate as electricity will in a short time make farm life more attractive, easier and profitable," Mr. Lee remarked. He went on to say that the Maryville plant was one of the best ever purchased by the Continental Gas & Electric Co., which was recently absorbed by the United Light & Railways Co., one of the six biggest concerns of its kind in the world. F. H. Brooks of Lincoln, Neb., vice-president of the concern, was called on by Doctor Miller. He spoke of the qualifications of Mr. Hellmers for his new position and said that he would be welcomed to Lincoln.

"Mr. Hellmers represents a new type in the utilities business and the big end that is stressed now is public relations," he said.

George Robb Ellison represented the forty or so employes of the Maryville Electric Light and Power Co., that were at the dinner. Mr. Ellison outlined the history of the electric light plant here in Maryville, telling of its expansion from a plant that only paid one bond on a $35,000 bond issue to a plant valued at $375,000 when it was sold to the Continental Co., in 1922. He paid tribute to Mr. Hellmers by telling what his genius and ability had accomplished and in conclusion presented Mr. Hellmers with a watch as a gift from the Light Co. employes of Maryville.

In accepting the gift Mr. Hellmers said "if I have attained any measure of success it is due largely to Maryville, as I have got more out of the work I have put into the civic organizations and business end that I have put into them. All credit for the success of the local light plant is not due to me alone but also to the faithful employes, who are a loyal bunch, not only for the company but also for the progress of the city. The first thing I learned when I came here was that people responded to good, fair treatment and that is all I aimed to give them. I wish to continue as a member of the Chamber of Commerce as I will be here from time to time in the interests of the United Light and Railways Co. I wish to thank you all for the treatment tendered to me and Mrs. Hellmers while we have been here."

When called on by Doctor Miller, Mrs. Hellmers responded by saying "I certainly have enjoyed living in Maryville and working with the people here."

Before the dinner hour Leslie G. Somerville, county superintendent of schools, gave the invocation. An orchestra composed of Miss Mary Carpenter, Ralph and Cleo Yehle, Maurice Strong and Wayland Richards furnished music during the dinner hour. The dinner was served by the Ladies' Aid of the First Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Archer of Shenandoah, Ia., and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Dragoo of Grant City attended the banquet. Both Mr. Archer and Mr. Dragoo have been employes of the company here under the management of Mr. Hellmers. Mr. Archer is district manager of the Shenandoah company, which is owned by the United Light & Railways Co., and Mr. Draggo is manager of the Grant City plant, which is also owned by that company.

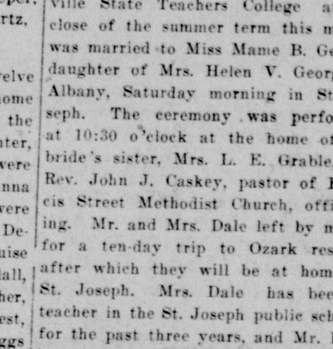
for Steady Nerves!



Riding a girder is not a job for a nervous man.

BUT no one is nervous by choice. There is a way that you may so strengthen your body that the nervous system will be cushioned on sound muscles and flesh. But this condition will not come about unless you have rich red-blood-cells. Red-blood-cells are the most important thing in all the world to each of us. More red-blood-cells! That's what you need when your nerves give way and you cannot control yourself.

S.S.S. will prove to you its "Why" and "How" reason. Since 1826 S.S.S. has helped thousands. Because S.S.S. does build blood-power, it builds you up when you are run-down, clears the system of blood impurities; routs so-called skin disorders—and stops rheumatism, too.

This is why S.S.S. is accepted as the greatest of all blood purifiers, blood builders and system strengtheners. Start taking S.S.S. today. Its medicinal ingredients are purely vegetable. Your nerves will become stronger, you will have more energy, vitality and vigor and a more up and going appearance.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

American Colony in Shanghai Is Listed at 3,418

By Bert L. Kuhn
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Shanghai, Aug. 25.—The average back-home American may have had difficulty in understanding the reasons underlying the great interest taken by the American government in the disturbances in China generally, and in Shanghai in particular. It is a fact little known in America that the American colony at Shanghai is the largest numerically of any American resident group outside of the territorial limits of the United States, exceeding in numbers even the American colony in Paris.

According to a recent census, conducted under the auspices of the Chinese Government Bureau of Economic Information, there are 3,418 permanent American residents in Shanghai, not including, of course, a considerable floating tourist population. In addition, there are 614 Americans residing elsewhere in the Shanghai Consular District.

The total foreign population of Shanghai is 43,251. Of these 18,902 are Japanese, 8,400 are Russians, principally refugees; 7,657 British, 1,100 French, 930 Germans, 680 Portugese and the remainder of various nationalities, including Dutch, Danes, Italians, Spanish, Swiss, Norwegians, Czechoslovakians, Austrians, Sweedes, Brazilians and Mexicans.

MADE PORK AT $7.90 CWT.

Howard County Feeders Profited by Sanitation Plan.

Here is a case where a thousand pounds of pork was produced in four months in a single litter at a cost of $79 and appraised at $140—leaving a profit of $61.

Kilander Brothers of Armstrong in Howard County raised this litter, consisting of ten pigs. Their feed included 40 bushels of corn at $1.10 per bushel, 360 pounds of tankage at $3.35 per hundredweight, 250 pounds of shorts at $2.00 per hundredweight, a pasture charge of $6.20, a vaccination charge of $3.15 and a charge of $10 on the feed of the sow from the time she was bred until the pigs were farrowed. From farrowing time to weaning time her feed is included in the above amount. The total feed cost was $79. The pigs were farrowed March 17 and on July 18 weighed 1002 pounds for the ten pigs.

These pigs were farrowed in a pen that had been scrubbed out thoroughly with boiling lye water and the sow was cleaned up before she was put in the pen to farrow. When the pigs were two weeks old they were turned out on an alfalfa patch that had not previously been pastured by hogs.

This demonstration simply confirms the opinion held by the more progressive hog raisers in Missouri that a combination of healthy hogs raised according to the sanitation plan of the Missouri College of Agriculture with legume pasture, corn, and tankage will make cheap pork and allow a profit.

Chicago Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—Grain futures ped sharply in trading on the Chicago board of trade today. On the downward revision corn and oats touched new low territory. There was a fractional rally on profit taking near the close.

Selling by commission houses credited to longs, induced to unload wheat by bearish foreign advises. The trade was largely local in character.

Outstanding features in corn were lack of support and selling instigated by imported crop news and liberal country offerings.

Oats were naturally affected by action in other grains.

The decline was comparatively narrow due to lack of interest.

Provisions soared lower in sympathy with hogs and grains.

HOGS AND LAMBS LOWER —CATTLE STRONGER.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Aug. 24.—Following the moderate display of strength that occurred in the hog market late last week there was a 25 to 40 cent decline today that carried quotations back to the low point of last week. Receipts were moderate, but demand throughout the east was narrow. Fat steer prices were uneven, strong to a quarter higher, mostly strong. Stockers and feeders were 15 to 20 cents higher, cows and heifers 10 to 15 cents lower, and veal calves 50 cents lower, lambs were 15 to 25 cents lower and sheep steady. Trade was active at the decline.

Today's Receipts.

Receipts today were 27,000 cattle, 6,500 hogs, and 10,000 sheep, compared with 26,000 cattle, 7,000 hogs and 10,000 sheep a week ago, and 30,200 cattle, 12,900 hogs, and 16,750 sheep a year ago.

Beef Steers.

Prime and good to choice fed steers were lacking. Some good short fed steers at $12 to $13.25 were quoted strong to 25 cents higher, and the good grass fat and wintered steers were stronger. Most other classes were steady. Choice to prime steers, had they been available, would have shown a material advance. The general trade, however, indicated a stronger tendency, and some of last week's uneven decline will probably be eliminated this week. Fed cattle will remain scarce and they should make a quick recovery. Grass fat steers sold at $5.25 to $9.50, and wintered steers $9.25 to $11. Cows and heifers which remained firm last week broke 10 to 15 cents today, but at the decline trade was active. Light weight veal calves were 50 cents to $1.00 under last week's high time, best selling up to $12.

Stockers and Feeders.

Fleshy feeders advanced 25 to 40 cents, and straight stockers and feeders were up 15 to 25 cents. Fleshy feeders suffered a severe decline last week. The per cent of straight feeders and stockers was larger than on preceding Mondays.

Hogs.

Hog prices broke 25 to 40 cents today and quotations were returned to the low point last week, and were as low as at any previous time since early June. Normally the hog market should be advancing at this season of the year but pork demand seems unable to carry the strain of higher prices. The top price today was $12.75, and bulk $12.40 to $12.70. Light weights sold at a premium over medium and heavy grades. Packing sows brought $10.75 to $11, and stock hogs and pigs $12.50 to $13.

Sheep and Lambs.

Lamb prices were down 15 to 25 cents and sheep were steady. Most of the offerings were eastern lambs that brought $14.25 to $14.60. Native lambs brought $13.75 to $14.25, and feeding lambs $13.50 to $14.25. About the only sheep offered was a bunch of Texas wethers at $8.25. The first Utah range lambs offered this season brough $14.60. The supply of western lambs will increase.

For Hiking

Here's the outfit President Coolidge wore on his recent tramp over the Vermont hills near his father's home at Plymouth, Vt. The typically New England long jumper and boots are the every day attire of many farmers in that section. This picture was taken by a Plymouth photographer who planned to make some pin money by selling it to tourists, but "a presidential spokesman let it be known" that the chief executive preferred to have the photo suppressed.

Horses and Mules.

Receipts of horses and mules were slightly larger than on preceding Mondays but not sufficient to attract large demand. Prices hold firm.

Assistant Administrator Will Have Issuance of Liquor Permits in This Section.

Kansas City, Aug. 25.—Judge H. P. Loveland, who had been in charge of the liquor permit division of prohibition enforcement headquarters at Washington, D. C., has been named an assistant to William D. Moss, administrator of this district with headquarters at St. Louis, Mr. Moss announced last night.

The assistant administrator will have charge of all issuance of liquor permits in this section, and will take up his duties at St. Louis, September 1. He was here late yesterday conferring with Mr. Moss and left last night for Washington to prepare for the change.

Under the new dry chief, Gen. L. C. Andrews, the office occupied by Judge Loveland was abolished. East district now has its own administrator issuing permits.

Mr. Moss would leave for St. Louis within a few days to take charge of administration offices there September 1, he said last night. His family will follow shortly after.

He believes the offices will not be moved from St. Louis, although reports have been heard of locating it here.

The present personnel at both St. Louis, and Kansas City would remain intact, Mr. Moss said.

Other appointments probably will be made by him within the next few days.

Married Six Times in Last Hundred Years

Santa Ana, Cal., Aug. 25.—(United Press).—Claiming it was his sixth matrimonial venture, Juan Magana, 100 years old, was issued a license fice here to wed Mrs. Mathilda Martinez, 56.

Magana is merely fulfilling his prescription for longevity by remarrying, he told well wishers at the clerk's office.

"The secret of long and happy living is much matrimony" the centanarian Lothario declared.

"The first 100 years are the hardest and the happiest." I have only started living, and with my new bride will spend a honeymoon on my farm."

The groomto-be disarmed questioners with a wave of the hand when asked how many children he had fathered.

"I've lost count," he said. "My last child is 12 years old."

NOTRE DAME LOSES STARS

FAMOUS FOUR HORSEMEN WILL NOT BE BACK.

ROCKNE NOT WORRIED

He Is Depending on His "Shock Absorbers" to Take Place of Last Year's Phenomenal Eleven.

By HARRY BLOOMBARGER.
International News Staff Correspondent.

Philadelphia, August 25.— Knute Rockne is not bewailing the loss of almost his whole first-string gridiron players, as any one thinks he would. The "Four Horsemen" will not be with him this Fall, and besides Notre Dame will lose the seven working mules. And that's not all. Of twenty-two first string men, Notre Dame has lost eighteen.

Rockne knows he is going to miss his "Four Horsemen," but it is not in the Notre Dame coach's makeup to prepare an alibi, according to Joe Maxwell, of Philadelphia, who will take Captain Walsh's place on the Notre Dame football team next year.

Rockne, Maxwell says, is depending on his group of warriors known last year as his "shock absorbers," to carry Notre Dame through to another great season this October and November.

The "Shock-absorbers" are the men Rockne used to start the big games, while the varsity remained on the bench. These "shockers" played the most part of the first period, then gave way to the Four Horsemen and the drivers.

Joe Maxwell and Boland, two Philadelphians are among the "shock-absorbers" who will step into varsity berths this fall.

"The shock-absorbers last fall were all sophomores with the exception of Crow, an end, who is this year's varsity captain, declared Maxwell. "Coach Rockne each year picks out a team from the freshmen and they play together as much together as possible their four years in college.

"The team which was graduated played together for four years. Our shock-absorbers have been together two years already and expect to play as a team again this fall. Last year's freshmen will step into our places as shock absorbers.

Rockne's "shock-absorbers," said Maxwell is just one of his many ideas of developing a winning team.

Rockne explains it this way, according to Maxwell:

"To be ready for direct action, a team should be physically relaxed but mentally alert. That's what sitting on the bench at the start of the game helps to accomplish for the varsity.

"It's not an easy task to get a team keyed up and remain relaxed physically. Yet, I find this is the best method to obtain the best results from the players.

"I also don't want my players to have either fear or anger in their make-up during the game. It's a handicap to efficiency, since either prevents physical relaxation. In either case their is a general tightening of the nerve and muscular systems which destroy power, freedom of effort and speed."

Courtney Sisters in Program at Elmo

Ellen Elizabeth and Katherine Courtney of Kansas City, who, with their mother, Mrs. W. E. Courtney, are visiting relatives here, gave an entertainment last night at the M. E. Church, South, in Elmo. The affair was sponsored by the Daughters of Ruth Sunday School class. The young performers were assisted by Mrs. Ralph Eversole, who played their accompaniments and sang a group of voice selections, one of which was an original composition. Readings, folk dancing and songs made up the program of the Courtney Sisters.

Henry Speeds

Even Henry Ford speeds a bit once in a while. Deputy Sheriff Harold Hamilton, above, of Melvindale, Mich., arrested the flivver king when the Ford car—not a Ford car—hit 46 miles an hour. The sheriff threatened to fire Hamilton, if he didn't apologize to Ford, and the police chief of the village said he would bust him if he did. There was no apology, and Hamilton was notified he could have a job in the Ford plant if he were fired.

UNMOVED BY HUGE CROWD

DEMONSTRATION FOR ROAD FAILS TO REGISTER.

FIGHTING FOR LIFE

Says Senator Cave and Only Hope Is to Get State Road—City May Be Boycotted.

Fulton, Aug. 25.—Despite one thousand protesting farmers who drove through the streets Monday, Fulton today continued obstinate on the injunction which has stopped work on Kansas City-St. Louis cross state highway.

The townspeople were interested in the parade of farmers from Calloway, Audrian and Boone counties, but they did not change their attitude towards the injunction.

R. H. Piepmeier, state highway engineer, conferred with several of leaders who were behind the move to obtain the temporary restraining order stopping letting of contracts, but they were unwilling to relent. This occurred after the parade of protest and after speeches had been made beseeching Fulton to allow road work to go on. The contract should have been let Friday.

Fulton, Mo., Aug. 25.—Fulton remains unmoved by the ringing pleas of its neighbors and the threat of business boycott.

A protest parade yesterday of nearly two thousand men and women who motored here from North Callaway, Boone and Audrain counties brought the answer from Fulton that the injunction suit to tie up completion of the Kansas City-St. Louis primary highway would not be dismissed. The parade through the streets of Fulton was about a mile in length. Each car carried a placard inscribed: "We indorse the highway commission."

Edward W. Bright, banker of Stevens, who was a moving spirit in the protest parade and the meeting yesterday on the court house lawn, said there would be another meeting tomorrow night in McCredie to take further action.

"Will it be a boycott of Fulton" he was asked.

"I don't know," Mr. Bright replied. He indicated an appeal might be sent to Kansas City, St. Louis and other communities in the state, requesting them to bring pressure on Fulton to dismiss the suit.

Following the protest meeting, State Senator Nick Cave, attorney for the twenty citizens who obtained the temporary injunction last week in Jefferson City, said:

"There is no reason for us to change our present course. We are not trying our case on the court house lawn. The people of Fulton feel the legislature gave them this road (No. 2). We are fighting for our business life.

"Our only hope is in getting this road," he explained.

R. L. Smith, a farmer living near McCredie, who presided at the protest meeting, expressed regrets when told Senator Cave and the road objectors were not moved by the meeting and threats from adjacent territory of a boycott. In a speech on the court house lawn, Mr. Smith declared the protesters held no animosity for Fulton. But, he pointed out, the injunction suit which will not be argued in the Cole County circuit court until the middle of November, would tie up much road construction in this part of Central Missouri.

He said work would be stopped not only on the last big gap of concrete seven miles north of here, on the Kansas City-St. Louis highway, but also on the Columbia-Jefferson City road (No. 7) and on the Mexico-Jefferson City highway (No. 151). On the latter road state highway department surveyors are prepared to lay out the right-of-way to begin constructing twenty-five miles of concrete road connecting this city with Mexico.

"We want to continue to come to Fulton and to patronize you people," Mr. Smith told the crowd.

The speaker was applauded when he said the protesters merely were asking Fulton to withdraw its injunction suit.

Mr. Smith pointed out the route selected by the highway commission for road No. 2—seven miles north of this city—would serve more persons than if it were diverted through Fulton, would shorten the distance across the state and would cost less to build.

Persons here said the protest meeting today would tend only to increase the resentment in Fulton. They pointed out much of the agitation for the meeting was stirred up in Mexico, a nearby rival. One of the Mexico men here today was the treasurer of a Mexico baseball club about twenty-five years ago and was forced to run for a train following a game between the rival towns in Auxvasse.
